COVID Regulations at TW

Safety is a vital part of our industry, especially during the COVID Pandemic. Our headquarters are in Maryland and at the time of this writing, there have been over 1.1 million cases of Covid, with over 14,000 deaths and over 18,000 new cases over the last two weeks.

Given the statistics, TW Products have implemented numerous health and safety policies to prevent our workers from contracting the virus. We have encouraged hand-washing, frequent cleaning and disinfecting of office areas, and made hand sanitizer available to our employees.

Our office also makes a point to keep up with the news and alert our employees of any potential Covid spikes or outbreaks and encourage safe travel practices. To better implement social distancing, digital communication is encouraged, including in our monthly meetings done over Google Meet. Furthermore, our offices have a spaced out floor plan that keeps our work stations at a healthy distance from one another.

We also enforce a strict vaccination requirement for all people who enter our premises in order to curb the spread of Covid and lower the risks of exposure for all employees and visitors. Safety is our number one priority and as such, making sure everyone is guarded takes precedent in all face to face business operations.

Together, we can get through this!
