TW Products Attends 2023 TowXPO

American Towman's 2023 TowXpo occurred this past July 13-15 in Dallas/Ft. Worth, TX, and TW Products® were proud to be one of the many exhibitors and presenters in attendance. As outlined on the official convention website: "TowXpo is an industry-wide event where towing and recovery professionals get to meet and talk with major manufacturers of wreckers, carriers, trailers, truck chassis and offer all the tools and equipment towers needed to be successful."

Tow trucks were at the convention as exhibits for some of the many towing professionals who were represented at the conference, and several of them featured hooks and chain assemblies made by TW Products®, showing the items in their practical setting and role. Our company aims to become a byword for quality and reliability in this and a number of other industries. Using our manufactured articles in real-life applications signifies that we are moving toward that goal.

We sincerely thank those of you who took the time to stop by our booth in Ft. Worth. We are taking a break from trade shows for the month of August but will be in attendance at multiple shows and conferences over the fall and are excited to share some of those details in next month's newsletter. For now, you can always reference the company website here at www.twprod.com for information about TW Products, our team, and our commodities for sale. For more specific questions like quotes or concerns about orders, please contact customerservice@twprod.com.
